Robert Knickrehm Agricultural Scholarship

Scholarship will be awarded to selected student(s) meeting the following requirements:

- United States citizen
- Live within the south half of Brown County*
- A May high school graduate (public, private or an accredited home school)
- Planning to attend an institution of higher learning (University or Vocational) within the state of South Dakota
- Enrolling in a course of study related to agriculture, including welding and diesel mechanics, beginning in the fall
- Student must demonstrate high qualities of scholarship, leadership and citizenship.
- Applicant must submit the completed application and two letters of reference: one from the high school administration and one personal reference.
- A letter to the Board of Supervisors indicating an interest in agriculture as demonstrated by participation in activities in school and the general community.
The recipient of this $500.00 scholarship, per standard school term, will be chosen by the current Board of Supervisors of the South Brown Conservation District. The funds will be made available to the school chosen in amounts equivalent to the course year. (One-half per semester, one third per quarter). Failure to complete the first term (or terms) cancels the eligibility of the student to receive the final share of the scholarship.

ALL APPLICATIONS MUST BE RETURNED TO SOUTH BROWN CONSERVATION DISTRICT BY MARCH 31ST.

*The South Brown Conservation District consists of the south one half of Brown County in South Dakota, the north boundary following the north boundary of the townships of Riverside, Putney, Cambria, Ordway, Lincoln and Ravinia (including the cities and towns of Aberdeen, Groton, Warner, Bath and Mansfield (in Brown County).
