^{*}Use columns for smaller schools unless the school district is eligible and uses the option to separate schools into two groups described below.

School Size Grouping Eligibility: If one school in a grade span group has an enrollment that is at least twice as large as that of another school in the same grade span group, the district may divide such schools in that grade span into two groups; one group for the schools with larger enrollments, and one group for the schools with smaller enrollments. Schools with enrollments of 100 or less are excluded when making a determination of the size of the smallest school. The small group/large group division may be arbitrarily determined by the district. Schools in each group are compared only the other schools in the same group, and not with the schools in the other group.
