COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE AGES

Under South Dakota law, children between the ages of six (6) and 18 are of compulsory school age. It is the responsibility of every person having under his/her control a child between those ages to see to the child's regular attendance at a public or nonpublic school until the child has reached the age of 18 unless the child has graduated or is excused.

All children not younger than five (5) or older than six (6) years old by the first day of September are required to be enrolled in a public or nonpublic kindergarten program. Any child who transfers from another state may proceed in a continuous educational program without interruption if the child has not previously attended kindergarten.

Any person who does not see to the school attendance of a child in his/her care will be guilty of a misdemeanor and, if convicted, will be subject to a fine as established by law.

No student will be denied the right of attending school without due process of law.
